

Green Fee Initiative at Costessey Park

Costessey Park Golf Club now has available for non-members a transferable Green-Fee Points Card. It offers excellent value for money and can be used at any time of the day, subject to tee-time availability.

The card can be purchased from as little as £50, giving the holder a minimum of 10 points, which can equate to as many as ten rounds of golf at Costessey Park Golf Club! The more points you purchase in one transaction, the more bonus points you receive. For a purchase of £100 or more, card holders receive an additional 10% bonus points. For example, a purchase of £200 will give 44 points on the green-fee card.

Costessey Park's Golf Director Gary Stangoe commented on the new Green-Fee Points Card:

“The new Costessey Park Green-Fee Points Card is ideal for any player who wants access to golf without the commitment to a year-long membership. It could be for a group of friends who enjoy the occasional game together. The beauty of the scheme is its flexibility, allowing golfers regular access to a course and its facilities without membership.

“However, we do anticipate that some of the Green Fee Points Card regular users will take the opportunity to join the club in the future. As a member they will be able to utilise many benefits, such as unlimited golf at Costessey Park, regular club competitions, events, club holidays and the opportunity to hold an official handicap.

“Members also have the opportunity to join the unique Four-Way Golf Scheme. This scheme, launched in 2009, entitles members to 36 rounds a year, free of charge, divided between three other Norfolk courses.

“We see the Green Fee points Card as a great gift idea, along with our regular ‘Get Going with Golf’ tuition courses hosted by Costessey Park. We are confident that we now offer everyone who wishes to participate in golf in the Norwich area a first-class range of tuition, green-fee and membership packages.”
